

Make traditional "BINGATA" dyed cloth designs at a town of dyeing

Half Day Japanese Art Lesson

Learn how to make ancient Okinawa cloth patterns that you can take home as a memory of your time in Japan

4 hours lesson

Tues.Wed. Fri. Sat.

10,000 yen(+tax)

Lesson time: Between 13:30-17:30

Price includes: Material cost, Japanese Green Tea and Traditional Cake
along with your souvenir artwork

What is BINGATA ?

"Bingata" is a traditional form of cloth dyeing that originated in Okinawa. It's history goes back to the 14th century. Bingata is done with hand-cut patterns and all-natural materials. Many of the designs are based on the landscape of Okinawa. Okamekobo Studio is one of the only places you can learn Tokyo-style Bingata which uses soft chic colours.

Why learn at Okamekobo Studio?

Learn from a professional Bingata artist

These lessons use the highest grade silk

The studio is right in the centre of an authentic cloth-dyeing
town

Textile Dyeing Artisan

Kayoko Yamamoto

A Bingata artist for over 30 years, she has held exhibitions all over the world and won several awards.

Bingata Making Process

Choose design

Attach glue

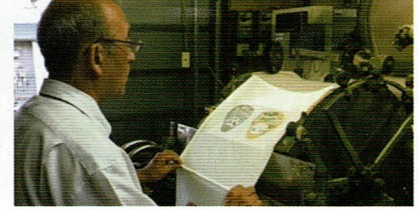

Choose color

Formulation of color

Coloring

A hot water supply

Samples

Placemat&Coaster

Hart Coller

Mini cloth

Girls

Helmet

Amulet doll

Easy Access from Shinjuku & Ikebukuro station

Okamekobo Studio

fb.me/okamekobo  <https://www.instagram.com/okamekobo/>

Shimizu Bldg 1F 1-17-12 Nakaochiai
Shinjuku Tokyo 161-0032

[Access]

Nakai station Oedo Line or Seibushin-juku Line, 3 minutes from either station

[Application]

✉ lesson@okamekobo.jp
🌐 www.okamekobo.jp

